

INVITATION

The knock-on effect: how the pandemic is uniquely impacting the health of women and girls

As COVID-19 continues to spread across all corners of the globe, it brings with it a knock-on effect of social, economic and health impacts, with great consequence for women and girls. From pregnancy-related deaths and a decline in routine immunisation, to the "shadow pandemic" of gender-based violence, this pandemic threatens to set back decades of progress for gender equality.

The Q&A event will feature:

Professor Glen Mola

Head of Reproductive Health, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, School of Medicine and Health Sciences at the University of Papua New Guinea

Professor Julie Bines

Founding member of Women in Global Health Australasia; Victor & Loti Smorgon Professor of Paediatrics, University of Melbourne; and Director, WHO Collaborating Centre for Child Health, Melbourne Children's Global Health

Ms Sarah Goulding

Vice-Chair of Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance; Assistant Secretary, DFAT

THURSDAY 10TH SEPTEMBER

4PM TO 5PM AEST

Register via this link

Background reading:

COVID19 Global Trends and Analyses: indirect impacts on global health - Burnet Institute

Melbourne Children's
A world leader in child and adolescent health

Supported by The Royal Children's Hospital Foundation

GLOBAL HEALTH ALLIANCE AUSTRALIA